WASHINGTON MARKED SNOWMOBILE TRAILS-1985

AGV857
, S6W3

There are many places on the National Forests where you can enjoy winter recreation. The following trails are only a few of the scenic places you can explore. Check with the local District Ranger on the National Forest you are visiting for other areas you can visit that may not be marked, as well as status and condition of the listed trails. For instance, many snowcovered roads are easy to follow and allow you to get away from the crowds. For additional snow trail information, contact your local snowmobile club.

Other things to keep in mind for a safe and pleasant visit:

- check with your local National Forest office for updated weather and avalanche hazard information;
- be sure to carry a Sno-Park permit since most plowed areas require one.

Your dollars, provided through the State snowmobile gas tax refund and snowmobile registration fees, help pay for most of the trail grooming, snow removal from parking areas and some trail signing and parking lot construction.

Orange trailblazers mark the trail, especially where it is hard to follow.

Orange directional markers are used at junctions and at major changes in direction.

WINTER RECREATION CODE OF ETHICS

1. I will respect the rights of all winter recreationists to enjoy the beauty of the winter wonderland. I will respect public and private property.
2. I will park considerately, taking no more space than needed, without blocking other vehicles and without impeding access to trails.
3. I will keep to the right when meeting another winter recreationist. I will yield the right-of-way to traffic moving downhill.
4. I will slow down and use caution when approaching or overtaking another.
5. I will respect designated areas, trail use signs and established ski tracks.
6. When stopping, I will not block the trail.
7. I will not disturb wildlife. I will avoid areas posted for the protection or feeding of wildlife.
8. I will pack out everything I packed in and will not litter.
9. I realize that my destination objective and travel speed should be determined by my equipment, ability, the terrain, weather, and the traffic on the trail. In case of emergency, I will volunteer assistance.
10. I will not interfere with or harass others. I recognize that people judge all skiers or snowmobilers by my actions.

Prepared by USDA Forest Service, Pacific Northwest Region, in cooperation with the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission and the Washington State Snowmobile Association.
